Axel You are using our text to speech engine (TS2) which allows you to speak out messages from within your application. TS2 can be used on many types of hardware including speech synthesizers and text to speech devices. To use TS2 you need to open an additional configuration file (an XML file). You can find TS2 configuration file in your samples folder (by default). If you want to change XML values you must open the configuration file with any XML editor (XML.EXE) then modify and save again the configuration file. Please, let me know if you have problems in using TS2 in your project. Thanks a lot! --- --- The JVM (Software) - JRE, J2SE, J2ME, JDK - does not interfere with the core engine and its use as a voice tool. The a69d392a70
